Step 2:

The screenshot shows the 'MySQL® Databases' interface. On the left is a sidebar with a grid icon and a group of people icon. The main header is 'MySQL® Databases'. Below it, a paragraph states: 'Manage large amounts of information over the web easily. MySQL databases are necessary to run many web-based applications, such as bulletin boards, content management systems, and more information, read the documentation.' Below this is a link '↓ Jump to MySQL Users'. The main section is titled 'Create New Database'. Under the heading 'New Database:', there is a text input field containing the word 'database'. Below the input field is a blue button labeled 'Create Database'.

The screenshot shows the 'MySQL Users' interface. On the left is a sidebar with a grid icon and a group of people icon. The main header is 'MySQL Users'. Below it is the sub-header 'Add New User'. The form contains the following fields: 'Username' with a text input field containing 'thinknco_' and a placeholder 'your_user_name'; 'Password' with a text input field filled with dots; 'Password (Again)' with a text input field filled with dots. Below these fields is a 'Strength' indicator showing a green bar and the text 'Very Strong (100/100)'. To the right of the strength indicator is a button labeled 'Password Generator'. At the bottom left of the form is a blue button labeled 'Create User'.
